ICFAI MUN'23

-ANGELINA, LEO, MAHITHA, VAISHNAVI.

The ICFAI MUN, held from 7th April to 9th April was organized by the ICFAI Law School.

Model UN, also called MUN, is an educational exercise that imitates the procedures of the United Nations. Students who engage in MUN act as delegates from different nations and participate in discussions, negotiations, and debates on worldwide issues. This simulation provides participants with knowledge on international relations and diplomacy and teaches them to collaborate effectively to produce solutions and draft resolutions.

The ICFAI MUN sessions were a resounding success, with professional and engaging committee sessions that kept delegates on their toes. Every speaker had valuable insights to share, redirecting the conversation towards the interests of other country delegates.

The focus is on collaboration and negotiation, fostering professionalism, and ensuring a rewarding and enjoyable experience for all participants.

ITINERARY

As previously stated, the event spanned over three days, and the subsequent schedules outline the activities for each of the days.

AGENDA

Each committee discussed the following agendas, and by Day 3, they had reached a consensus on solutions to their respective issues.

1. World Bank

Macro-Economic policy framework for developing countries to cope with a high debt to GDP.

2. United Nations Human Rights Council

The deteriorating human rights situation in Ukraine.

3. Lok Sabha

- a. Improving the opportunities for sports in India with emphasis on regulating the role of private entities.
- b. Empowering youth with special emphasis on Atma Nirbhar Bharath.

4. United Nations Security Council

Peacekeeping operations in the Sahel Region.

DAY - I

On the first day of the ICFAI MUN sessions, delegates started with a registration and briefing session in the morning, followed by an Opening Ceremony where notable professionals and experts delivered keynote speeches. In the evening, the focus shifted to the GSL (General Speaker List), where delegates had the opportunity to introduce themselves and present their country's stance on the topic at hand. This was followed by moderated caucus sessions, where delegates could discuss and refine their ideas in preparation for the committee sessions to come. Overall, the first day was a productive and engaging start to the MUN sessions.

DAY - II

The second day of the Icfai MUN sessions began with committee sessions in the morning, where delegates engaged in debates on various topics related to the committee's mandate. The afternoon session continued with a focus on passing resolutions through collaboration and negotiation, allowing delegates to refine their ideas and work together to achieve common goals.

In the evening, an unmod cauc was held, providing delegates with the opportunity to interact and build relationships outside of the formal committee sessions. This was a valuable chance for delegates to connect and socialize, building rapport and strengthening the sense of community among participants. Overall, the second day was a productive mix of debate, collaboration, and relationship-building.

DAY - III

On the third and final day of the Icfai MUN sessions, the focus was on finalizing and presenting resolutions for voting in the morning committee session. Delegates worked together to refine and improve their resolutions, and then presented them for a voting session in the afternoon. The day culminated in an awards ceremony to recognize outstanding contributions from participants. In the evening, a closing ceremony was held, with final speeches and farewell messages from organizers and delegates. This marked the end of the productive and engaging MUN sessions, and delegates departed with new skills, knowledge, and relationships. Overall, the final day was a successful conclusion to the event.

FEEDBACK

ICFAI had some really tough competitors coming from all over India.. it was cool and enthralling experience to witness such mass no.of delegates coming from all the corners.

The transportation and food was the ONLY issue which we faced, firstly we had a very far off stop for the bus and the mess food was way below the bar for taking up 2.2k from the delegates...

Apart from these, ICFAI MUN really helped have a large perspective on the present situation and current affairs in the world experiencing VARIETY delegates!

-Sudhamshu(CSM C)

The hospitality at ICFAI Law College did not meet our expectations as we were expecting a lot from the organizers. However, on the contrary, the sessions were very productive. I had a youngest delegate of 12 years in my committee, and the whole event brought together many diverse delegates from all over the country, as it was a PAN India MUN event. There were no social events, and most of the delegates were disappointed about that. The food was very disappointing, and I do not think it is an appropriate way to treat delegates, especially on the last day. Nevertheless, the closing ceremony was pretty awesome.
