ICE BREAKERS 2020

-RITHVIK PARASA

Due to the pandemic situations, we missed on a lot of activities and more importantly missed a chance to know each other in person.

So, as to ease up relations among the Freshmen and to come out of their comfort zones, we have conducted ICE BREAKERS on 9th september 2020. The seniors of the club had put in a lot of effort right from welcoming the students to be a part of it to organizing the event efficiently.

So as the first step of the icebreaking, the anchors were selected from the newbies itself, trained by the seniors to handle the event effectively. The event focused mainly on effective communication and bringing out the best of the talents they possess.

As part of the event the students were randomly asked to come forward to break the barriers of discomfort, make a connection by either showing everyone a talent they own or a simple question from a list of questionnaires that was already prepared by the seniors. They get to put up a talent show or to pick a question and voice their opinion on that.

ICE BREAKERS 2020

This event was just the first step in knowing each other and to form a connection between the new lexians. Some of the topics that the students had to chose to speak up were-

1. If you were a superhero, what character would you choose and which friend of yours here, would be your sidekick? And what would your super powers be?
- 2.If you want to write a novel about yourself which all memorable moments and Life changing situations you would mention?
- 3.Share with us some crazy recipes you know which other's don't. (some experiment they did with food, drink or anything)
- 4.The first you'd do if you were Donald trump for a day
5. Imagine you are Aladdin, so have magical Chirag and you are granted with three wishes. What will you do?
6. If you become the Prime Minister of India for a day what would you want to do?

The evening just got so better when everyone participated actively and either picked a question or showcased their talent. It was a treat to watch out the young minds doing their best to really break the ice and fit in the group. It was indeed a fun filled yet effective evening which embarked a beautiful beginning of the journey.
