MEMBERSHIP DRIVE REPORT

lexis membership drive'23

-Angelina, Leo, Mahitha, Vaishnavi.

The Lexis membership drive was held from 12th April to 14th April with the aim of selecting this year's batch of Lexians. The drive consisted of three rounds: a written test, jam sessions, and interviews. It was an engaging and interactive session that provided a wonderful opportunity for many intriguing first-year students to introduce themselves to the senior members of the club.

WRITTEN TEST

As always, We, the team has conducted a written test for the 1st year students as the written test is the first step of the membership process.

We have received a huge response and many of the students have shown interest in attempting the test.

The questions/topics which were given to them are as follows:

25.You're working on a project with a tight deadline but you find that you're unable to complete your section because your coworkers and your supervisor are unavailable to answer a few key questions. How do you deal with the situation?

WRITTEN TEST

After analysing the answer scripts, We were amazed with the creative side of the students and their spontaneity towards the fascinating and compelling topics which we have given them to reflect on.

JAM AND INTERVIEW

The 2nd step of the membership process is the JAM and Interview.

Our team has split into several panels and conducted the JAM and Interview for the selected students. The selected students count was around 69.

The participants were allowed to choose their own topics, out of which here are a few:

- Be in the crowd or stand out in the crowd.
- Is Arjun Reddy overrated.
- Life without an id card.

The responses for JAM were impressive and the interviews went really well.

We had the formal interview session in which we had mainly focussed on testing the students about how well they know about the club, why do they want to join Lexis, what their expectations are and take aways from the club, how and in what way can they contribute to the club, etc.

We've found them to be very enthusiastic and passionate about working with our club. We've seen the zeal to fight against their insecurities, stage fear, and reticence.

We also had an informal session at the end of the interview in which we got to know a lot about them (their habits, opinions, experiences, journey, etc...)

We were fortunate and content with the response and feedback we received from them.

65 students among 69 were selected as the actual members of the Lexis club.
